As for every Latin, good food is a very important part of one's life. Let's have a nice meal with wine and delicious dishes "Thank the Lord for such a privilege" and on every face, you'll see a large smile. Money you earn, you don't bring in the other world, why not enjoy it when still healthy.

Yes, I really enjoy preparing such meals as Boeuf Bourguignon or Coq au Vin, of desserts like Zuppa Inglese, such exquisite, luscious, mouth-watering meals that turn out to be a flop. Just imagine! Hours of labourious preparation and for what? And in consolation, I tell my wife, "Wait till next time."

Yes, I most certainly do. My wife and I have been members of a gourmet club for several years. Like the athlete we savor the "thrill of victory" and suffer "the agony of defeat" with our various creations.

I find it very relaxing and enjoyable to spend a few hours preparing a nice feast, but don't ask me to do the dishes.
